	Memorials:	Crawley War Memorial. Sussex. Second Lieutenant, 1st Battalion London Regiment (Royal Fusiliers). Gerald was born in Camberwell, London about 1893 [Gerald was born 1894]. He was the youngest child of Henry and Kate Hill. Henry was a brewer from Kendal in Westmorland. In 1881 the family was living in Weymouth, Dorset with three children and a servant. Henry's mother in law, Arabella Bebington was also a visitor with Henry's sister in law, Caroline. In 1901 Henry, still a brewer, was living in Lambeth with the family. However, by the First World War, Henry and Kate had died [Henry died 1925 & Kate died 1924], as there is a memorial to Gerald in St Peter's Church, West Green Crawley that is erected by his bother Horace. The stone memorial is near the altar and reads: "To the Glory of God and in ever loving memory of Gerald Stanley Hill, 2nd Lieut. The 1st London Regt who fell in action in the Battle of the Somme, Sept 15th 1916 aged 22 years. The above windows were erected by his brother Horace Rowland Hill of this parish" http://www.roll-of-honour.com/Sussex/Crawley.html [Some errors as noted]
